TOWN AND COUNTY.

Greatly Embellished.

The exterior of St. John's Episcopal Church has been handsomely decked with a new coat of paint, which, with its artistic and tasteful interior furnishing and adornment, together with its magnificent organ, renders it one of the most beautiful houses of worship in the State.

"Going About Doing Good."

Whatsoever Hon. W. J. Green's hand findeth to do, that he does with his whole might—whether in advancing the cause of Democracy and good government, promoting the general material prosperity, or aiding works of charity and benevolence. Through his efforts the Confederate Veterans' Home at Raleigh has admitted Mr. D. H. West, of this county, formerly a member of Co. C, 3rd Regt. N. C. S. T.—a deserving appliecant, who was a faithful and efficient soldier.

A Good Chance for a Pleasant Day's "Outing."

An excursion train will be run from Fayetteville to Wilmington to-morrow, leaving here at 7:00 A. M., and, returning, will arrive at 11:00 P. M., affording a stay of eight hours in Wilmington for business or pleasure. The excursion will be under the management of Capt. J. L. Autry—whose name gives substantial guarantee that it will be well-conducted—and the net proceeds will be for the benefit of the Baptist Church at Autryville. The fare for the round trip will be only $1.00.

The Gourmand Rejoices.

The Hotel LaFayette has opened its gem of a cafe, and the "vivamus dum vivimus" fellow licketh his chops, and saith "ha! ha!!" thereto. To him who has to stop out to "get the election returns," to "attend a lodge meeting," or to "see a man," the cafe is an undisguised blessing. The chafing-dishes prepare his stew or fry right under his eye and nose, and exactly to his taste; while, by mounting the tripod in front of the lunch-counter, he can enjoy oyster-eating in its sublimity and perfection:—on the half-shell. The New River oyster is used, equal to the Shrewsbury, and only inferior to the Blue Point, which is nonpareil among the bivalves of all the world.

The Wood Supply.

More important than the question of "wherewithal shall we be clothed" is to be the problem of how we are to cook our victuals and warm our toes during the winter, unless things change for the better. So far this season, wood has certainly been very scarce, and it would seem that the supply is dwindling in face of the enhanced demand consequent on our largely increased population (Mr. Porter's failure of a census to the contrary notwithstanding). Some of our wood dealers say that they intend to haul very little this winter, as they have plenty of forage, and will let their horses and mules rest. We cannot exactly blame them for that; but they ought to remember that while their stock is fattening some mighty good Democrats around Fayetteville might freeze to death.

From Dye's Bazaar.

Mr. M. E. Dye offers for the Cumberland Fair the following special premium, the "concomitants" of which will attract to it more than ordinary interest:

A fine velvet hat to the handsomest young lady attending the fair, to be presented at 3 P. M. on Thursday, 13th inst., by Dr. H. W. Lilly, in a speech suitable to the occasion. The committee of award is thus composed: Dr. H. W. Lilly, chairman; Col. D. Bethune, Antioch, Robeson county; Messrs. Walter J. Smith and W. H. Elliot, Cumberland county; Mr. J. C. Stedman, Haymount. These selections are peculiarly appropriate: Dr. Lilly enjoys an enviable reputation for the flueney and impressement with which he makes soft and eloquent speeches to young ladies (though we believe that he generally prefers to omit the audience); while, as "lady-killers" and "mashers," the remaining members of the committee stand peerless and unrivaled.

Homicide in Johnston County.

What looks very much like a deliberate murder took place in Bentonville township, Johnston county, last Friday, for the particulars of which we are indebted to Mr. Thomas Ward, of Ward's Foundry, who was in the vicinity at the time of the occurrence, and was afterwards present at the coroner's inquest.

After a quarrel, growing out of family jealousy, Henry Bain and his brother-in-law, Floyd Davis, parted last Friday afternoon, the former uttering very savage threats, which he made good about 8 o'clock that night by waylaying the latter on the highway, and killing him with a rifle. Bain, it is alleged, acted with singular coolness and deliberation after committing the deed. He went to the house of Davis, woke his wife, and informed her that he had killed her husband; thence he proceeded to the dwelling of his father-in-law, Wm. Bryan, to whom he made the same confession, at the same time asking advice as to what he had better do. Bryan advised him to leave, and "stand not upon the order of his going"—upon which counsel he proceeded to act forthwith, and was last seen about ten miles from the scene of the homicide, coming in the direction of Fayetteville.

Bain is of dark, dingy complexion, and walks with a limp from a deformity in the hip. He is accompanied in his flight by a brother-in-law—a puny, sallow-faced lad—who, it is said, was present when the fatal shot was fired.

"HEAD US OFF!"

Cumberland Democracy Triumphant!

Carry The News Along the Line!

Sutton, Smith, McGill and the Entire Democratic Ticket Elected!

A COLD DAY FOR INDEPENDENTS!

The Seal of Condemnation Stamped upon Radicalism Forever!

"EVERYTHING LOVELY AND THE GOOSE HANGS HIGH."

Our failure to present the regular full tabulated vote of this county in to-day's issue arises from the delay in bringing in the official returns from the different voting precincts, rendering it impossible to complete the table in time. It will appear next week.

The official vote, so far as it has been handed to us, is as follows:

Blue Sand-Hills—Cain, 52 majority; Sutton, 34; McGill, 56.

Flea Hill—Smith, 24 majority; Sutton, 20; McGill, 66; Green, 90.

Hope Mills—Smith, 91 majority; Cain, 258; Hall, 257; Troy, 258; McNeill, 258; Downing, 257; Sutton, 133; McGill, 145; Green, 190; Grady, 178; D. J. Smith, constable, 144.

Pearce's Mill—About 35 Republican majority.

Kingsbury—From 33 to 35 Republican majority.

Eureka—Smith tied Thagard, and McGill beat Buie 22 votes.

McKay's Store—Smith receives a majority of 1; Cain, 71; Hall, 72; Troy, 72; McNeill, 72; Downing, 71; Green, 56; Sutton: 55; McGill, 58; Grady, 56; judicial ticket 65.

Beaver Dam—Cain has 49 majority; Hall, 75; Troy, 76; Downing, 68: McNeill, 77; Green, 57; Sutton, 12; McGill, 45; Grady, 58; judicial ticket, 58.

Smith's majority in the county will come very near 1,400, Sutton and McGill very little less, and the whole will not go under 1,000 or 1,100.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Returns up to midnight indicate the election of the entire Tammany ticket. Majority from 15,000 to 20,000.

PETERSBURG, VA., Nov. 4.—The official majority for Eppes in this city is 1,638.

BENNETTSVILLE, S. C., Nov. 4.—Tillman carries Marlboro county by about 1,200 to 1,500.

HENDERSON, N. C., Nov. 4.—Democratic county ticket elected by about 400. Only three precincts to hear from. With full vote will elect the Democratic ticket by 200.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Entire Democratic Congressional delegation from this city has been elected.

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 4.—Fourteen towns in the fourth district show a Republican gain of 130. Eight towns in the River district show a Democratic gain of 151.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 4.—Georgia sends a solid Democratic delegation to Congress.

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—Two hundred precincts out of two hundred and five give Gov. Russell, Democratic, 32,027; Brocket, Republican, 19,442; Blockmer, Prohibition Republican, 1,429; plurality 12,534. The Globe says Hoar, Democratic, is elected to Congress over Fox, Republican, in the 5th district; Williams, Democratic, over Candler in the 9th district; Andrew, Democratic, over Pierce, Republican, in the 3rd also.

BALTIMORE, MD., Nov. 4.—Indications are that the Democrats have elected a solid delegation to the National House of Representatives. A sweeping Democratic victory comes from West Virginia.

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—Ex-Congressman P. A. Collins says the Democrats have carried the State, and have divided Congressional delegates.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 4.—Seventy-five towns in New Hampshire show a net loss of 642 on the Republican vote for Governor. Their plurality in the entire State for Governor in 1888 was 678. This would indicate the election of Amsden, Democrat, as Governor. McKinney is elected to Congress from the first district.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 4.—Twenty-eight precincts give Johnson, Democrat, for Congress a net gain on 1888 of 533. A continuance of this gain will elect Johnson by 250 majority.

NEW BRITAIN, CONN., Nov. 4.—The Democrats State tickets gets 296 majority in this city. Monk, Markley and Muller, Democratic, are elected to the House of Representatives.

RALEIGH, Nov. 5.—Returns show Cowles elected in the 8th district to Congress. They are vague as yet, but enough has been heard to show his election. Democrats elect eight members. Black district still in doubt. Wake county elects legislative and county ticket by good majority. Thompson, for Clerk, beat Upchurch, who has heretofore been invincible. Biggest majority in years.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 4.—The total vote in the State to day will not exceed 75,000. Tillman is elected by not less than 25,000 majority. The election has been absolutely devoid of incident or excitement. Neither whites nor blacks were enthusiastic and thousands absented themselves from the polls. Later news shows that South Carolina will send a solid Democratic delegation to Congress.

KANSAS.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 4.—Dispatches from Kansas indicate that for the first time in many years Kansas will send a broken Republican delegation to Congress. It is considered certain that Moonlight, Dem., will defeat Broderick, Rep., in the First district. Webb McNall, Dem., in the Sixth district, is also doubtless elected. Jerry Sampson, Dem., and James R. Hollowell, Rep., are running at a close race in the Seventh district.

ARKANSAS.

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., Nov. 5.—Small vote everywhere. A Gazette special from Searcy says: The indications point to a heavy vote in White county and a large Democratic gain. This township, which gave Eagle, Governor, Dem., 60 majority, gives Breckinridge 165 majority for the short term and 164 for the long term. Eight townships out of thirty give Breckinridge 422 majority, which points to 600 to 700 majority in the county. Telephone messages from Helena, Clayton county, say three townships give Breckinridge 1,971. Indications are that his majority in the county will be about 650. A telegram from Russellville claims 1,000 majority for Breckinridge in Pope county.

Election Day.

Tuesday last—to be long memorable as scoring a signal triumph for the stalwart and unterrified Democracy—was unmarked by aught of disturbance or misconduct, quiet and general good-humor holding undisputed sway about the polls at the court-house.

Business was almost universally suspended in Fayetteville, a veritable Sunday closing being observable up and down Hay, Person, Green and Gillespie streets. The merchants generally repaired to St. James Square, and there metaphorically shucked their coats and waded in for the overthrow of Radicalism—with what magnificent results our official table in another column will show. Some contented themselves with a bubbling over of patriotism to the extent of casting an early but counting vote, after which they seized the fleeting moments of this welcome holiday in chase of the fox, bowling over the partridge on the wing, or popping the squirrel, the robin and the yellow-hammer out of the sycamore and the pine at long taw with the double-barreled muzzle-loader or old-field rifle. Nay, not a few (of the kid-glove and "swell" persuasion) sought rarer game, and several buggy and horseback riding parties demonstrated the fact that more than one young fellow was striving to "make his calling and election sure" before the sun went down on the evening of November 4th.

Before 7 o'clock it became apparent to "our friends the enemy" that "the hawks had 'em" by a large majority, and the first Democratic cheers had hardly broken forth before the artillery, under command of Ben Black, commenced to boom. [The columbiad "busted" into smithereens at the third or fourth round—Capt. Black says that the majority was too big for the calibre of the piece.] At the hotels anxious inquirers after election news congregated in large numbers, and especially at the Hotel LaFayette the first floor office, lobbies, stairways, cafe and billiard room were crowded until long after midnight, the messenger boys from the Postal Telegraph and Commercial Cable Company and the Western Union passing back and forth with the exciting slips, which were read out to the crowd as fast as received, while delegates from the different townships of the county, bringing the "news to Mary," made their appearance at intervals, to be received with waving hats and boundless enthusiasm.

Cumberland has done well—yea, exceedingly well; but, without invidiously distinguishing, we may be permitted to put Cross Creek and Seventy-First in the column of victory in ornamented capitals, the latter having sent in to headquarters a Democratic majority of over 560—taking Ray's and Newton's together.

A BAD CASE OF "INDEPENDENTISM."

RALEIGH, N. C. 8 P. M. Nov. 5.—State returns show election certain of Democratic Congressmen in eight of the nine districts, with a good chance in the 2nd, the doubtful one, where Cheatham, colored, is the Republican candidate. All reports show increasing Democratic gains and the State Democratic ticket may have a majority of 60,000—only two counties having as yet reported Republican members of the General Assembly. Hitherto Republican counties like Northampton, Halifax, Warren, Chowan, Perquimans and New Hanover reported the election of Republicans to the Legislature by large majorities. From present indications Democrats will have 100 on joint ballot, in the General Assembly. There has never been such a sweeping Democratic victory in the history of the State, and the victors are jubilant, and there is great rejoicing over the election of Russell in Massachusetts, Patterson in Pennsylvania, and at the defeat of McKinley in Ohio; likewise Cannon of Illinoise, which seems certain.

OHIO.

Columbus, O., Nov. 5.—McKinley defeated for Congress by 72 votes; 13 Democratic Congressmen to 7 Republican.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5—The Democrats have carried New York by not less than 20,000 majority.

VIRGINIA.

RICHMOND, Nov. 4.—Chairman, Ellyson, of the State Democratic Executive Committee, claims that his party has carried 9 of the 10 Congressional districts of the State, and large Democratic gains in the one in doubt.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 4.—Returns from 119 towns and cities give Tuttle, Republican, 18,562, Amsden, Dem., 19,170—a Republican net loss of 900. Republicans concede the election of McKinney, Dem., for Congress in 1st district.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Returns from 34 Congressional districts show a gain of 2 Democrats. Grant (Tammany candidate) elected mayor of New York city.

MINNESOTA.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., Nov. 5,—It is thought that the Democrats have gained three Congressmen and Governor.

NEBRASKA.

OMAHA, Nov., 5.—Indications pint to the eletion of Boyd, Democrat, for Governor, and a gain of one Democratic Congressman.

NEW HANOVER.

WILMINGTON, Nov. 5.—The entire Democratic ticket elected by from 40 to 100. Frank Stedman elected sheriff by 79 majority. [His native place salutes and congratulates him.—EDS. OBSERVER.]

ROBESON.

Lumberton, Nov. 4.—Five townships give large Democratic gains. Norment, for Congress, leads the Republican ticket. Robeson is surely Democratic.

WILSON.

Wilson, Nov. 4.—Wilson county gives a Democratic majority of from 1,500 to 1,800 at least; Woodard, solicitor, has a majority of from 3,000 to 4,000.

ROWAN AND GUILFORD.

Raleigh, Nov. 4.—Henderson, Dem., for Congress, carries Rowan county by 1,200 majority over Thomas. Williams beats Brower 226 in Guilford.

WAYNE.

The Democrats of old Wayne have covered themselves with glory. The entire ticket is elected by majorities ranging from 800 to 1,200.

Vance, Warren, Franklin, Anson, Chatham, Moore, Randolph, Pender, Sampson, and really about every county thus far heard from has gone Democratic

It Rings from the Mountains, Too.

Mr. W. C. Troy—we none of us forget his magnificent work as a leading Democrat of the Upper Cape Fear in the old stirring times—telegraphs to the OBSERVER: "Crawford elected. Buncombe Democratic by 500 majority. Glorious!"

Light Along the Cape Fear.

Our esteemed freind, Mr. Duncan Cromartie, telegraphs to Mr. D. H. Ray: "Bladen is all right. How is Cumberland?" Very well, thank you, Mr. Cromartie—and none the worse after hearing from our gallant neighbor.

Mr. R. S. White also has our thanks for late news from Bladen. He has our congratulations, for no Democrat has worked for this result more gallantly than he.

The Hills and the Valleys of Moore.

Mr. D. E. McIver, of Moore county, telegraphs the OBSERVER that Moore county gives Willcox, for the legislature, 400 majority, and Grady, for Congress, 600.

Our Fair Sister, Harnett.

The old war-horse of Democracy, Maj. Benj. F. Shaw, telegraphs us from Dunn that Harnett county gives a Democratic majority of 600.

Rose Osborne.

As will be seen by advertisement in another column, the melodrama of "Satan" will be on the boards at Williams Hall on Monday evening next, prominent in which will appear Miss Rose Osborne, who was "leading lady" with no less a dramatist than C. B. Bishop, and she afterwards "starred" with Bartly Campbell's company. We have never seen the play, "Satan," but we know something of her merits as an actress; and, as she has freqently "played the devil" with the young men's hearts by her charms on the stage elsewhere, we doubt not that she is capable of doing justice to his majesty on this occasion.

THE CUMBERLAND FAIR.

Preparations for a Fine Exhibition—Many and Attractive Amusements—The Racing to be Fine—A Big Crowd Expected—Welcome, All!

Every year, about this time, we start off with a heading pretty much like the above, and go booming serenely along with an article very similar to the following. Why? Not from any constitutional disposition to "puff" and "blow," but because certain conditions require certain treatment; and as, every year, Cumberland county holds the best fair in North Carolina, so, every year, we are confronted by the same duty of doing it justice, and letting the world know what its people are accomplishing.

President Watson, Secretary Tillinghast, Treasurer McKethan and their assistants are intelligently directing their energies and diligently bestowing their time upon the work of preparation for the exhibition next week—putting the building in good shape; repairing the booths, stables, stalls, pens and coops; cleaning off the grounds; rolling the race-track; getting ready the books of the different departments, etc., etc.

With good weather, such as will not impede travel, we think we are justified in anticipating a very large attendance upon the fair of 1890; and, as crops have been remarkably fine, and all kinds of garden products especially prolific, we may hope for a display worthy the attention of the biggest crowd that can assemble on the grounds. We set great store by our neighbors, and have warrant for believing that especially our Robeson friends, who have tasted the fair at home, will cross the border in tremendous force, to help us as exhibitors and shake hands with us as guests.

We intend that visitors shall find no hour hang heavy on their hands during their stay in our midst. Each fair day will have its interesting and appropriate programme, with racing, tournament, etc., while theatrical performances and the grand ball will afford varied and delightful entertainment every evening.

We are in tip-top condition for an invasion of our friends from all parts of North and South Carolina. The Hotel LaFayette, the Overbaugh House, the Martin House and the Park House offer the very best class of tavern accommodation, while numerous boarding-houses give cosy, home-like comfort.

Change of Officers.

At a meeting of the directors of the People's National Bank, held yesterday, a change was made in the presidenoy of the bank which will produce in the community a mingled feeling of regret and gratification—Mr. E. F. Moore resigning, and Mr. F. W. Thornton being chosen to fill the vacancy. For years Mr. Moore has held this responsible position, bringing to the performance of its exacting duties the zeal and admirable business ability which have so signally characterized his mercantile career.

But the directors of the People's National Bank have been able to bring to their aid a very worthy successor. Mr. Thornton is a phenomenally successful man, having, by unflagging energy, good judgment and a careful study of the public needs, built up an immense dry goods trade, the admirable management of which has intimately identified him with the important interests of his community, and has abundantly fitted him for his new field of action.

In the selection of Mr. Thornton the bank has made no mistake, but taken another step forward. He is a gentleman of about 45 years, and began business here soon after the war at the early age of 20, with a capital not exceeding ten dollars. Within the short period of a little more than twenty years his business has developed into possibly the largest wholesale and retail dry goods establishment in the Carolinas, and already he has apparently amassed his share of this world's goods, the result of toil without end, perseverance and energy. Moreover, Mr. Thornton is directly or indirectly connected with almost every manufacturing concern in Fayetteville. As a citizen, he is public-spirited, wide-awake and knows a good thing when he sees it. The Hotel LaFayette, as well as Thornton Block, on Hay street, and an attractive row of dwellings on Thornton Avenue stand as monuments to his enterprise and progressiveness. He is half-owner in and President of the Manchester Cotton Mills, and likewise the Hotel LaFayette Company, being the prime mover in the organization of the last named—recognizing the importance of a first class-hotel in any and all commercial centres. He is a great believer in printers' ink, and as a result his business has grown to such proportions as to-day requires the employment of 33 salesmen. Surely with such a man at the helm the People's National Bank could not otherwise than prosper in the future as it has in the past twenty years.

Attention, Please.

Your attention is directed this week especially to the following new advertisements:

Hymeneal.

In St. Bartholemew's Church, Brooklyn, N. Y., by the rector, Rev. Turner B. Oliver, on Tuesday, 28th ult., Mr. Herbert Henry James was united in marriage to Miss Louisa Dobbin Anderson, daughter of Col. J. H. and Louisa D. Anderson—all of Brooklyn. The bride, who has many relatives and friends in this city to extend sincere congratulations, is a granddaughter of the late lamented James C. Dobbin, Secretary of the Navy during the administration of President Pierce, Col. Anderson having in the spring of 1861 married Miss Mary Louisa, the accomplished daughter of that distinguished North Carolinian.

At 4:30 o'clock on the afternoon of the 28th ult., in the Presbyterian Church at Red Springs, Rev. W. J. Crowson performing the ceremony, assisted by Rev. J. M. Clark, Mr. J. A. McKay, a leading young merchant and much-esteemed citizen of Red Springs, was married to Miss Irene Burress, a charming young lady of that place. Miss Jessie McLean, the organist, beautifully performed the wedding march, and Dr. Alex. Mack and Messrs. A. T. McCallum, J. G. Williams and J. M. Brown were the ushers preceding the bridal party into the handsomely decorated church, in which a large concourse of friends and well-wishers had assembled.

Terpsichorean.

The young men of Fayetteville—to whom the community is indebted on all occasions for their public spirit—will contribute to the general entertainment during fair week by a German and ball—the former to take place on Wednesday evening, with Mr. C. L. Campbell leading, assisted by Messrs. J. D. Williams, Jr., Jr., and Douglas Haigh—and the latter to take place on Thursday evening.

Managers—C. L. Campbell, chairman; E. Kyle, J. C. Thomson, Jr., Leighton Huske, Geo. Underwood.

Reception Committee—Jas. R. Williams, chairman; Dr. J. A. Hodges, Henry Covington, H. McD. Huske, Marsden Haigh.

Invitation Committee—Jno. Underwood, chairman; E. H. Eubanks, Paul Smith, Jacob Schlossberg, J. A. Moore, Willie Slocomb.

The young men of the city designing to participate will call on Mr. Jno. Underwood for tickets. The work of the campaign has made it inpracticable for the management to prepare and issue printed invitations, but all visitors to the fair are cordially invited to attend the German and ball.

Much Obliged, Neighbor.

Our excellent contemporary, the Farmer and Scottish Chief, acknowledging the receipt of the premium list of the Cumberland Fair, gives us the following neighborly "send-off:"

The list of premiums is full and very liberal. They are offered for fine horses, cattle, mules, hogs, sheep, goats, chickens, turkeys, ducks, geese, cotton, corn, peas, rye, oats, chufas, ground-peas, potatoes, tobacco, hay, garden and orchard products, cut-flowers, home-made butter, cheese, bacon, preserves, jellies, pickles, etc., etc.

We would be pleased to see every man, woman and child in Robeson county attend the Cumberland Fair. Fayetteville was very kind in offering special premiums, and in attending the Lumber River Industrial and Live-Stock Association, in August, and we should show our appreciation by sending articles for exhibition, and by attending en masse.

You know how our latch-string hangs, and nobody in the world could give it a more welcome pull than the people of Robeson county. Especially will we feel honored by the attendance of the officers of the Lumber River Industrial and Live-Stock Association, and all their following will receive a warm hearted greeting. Our neighbors are uncommonly "well-heeled" for the Cumberland Fair, in the splendid articles which they had on exhibition last summer. They will be new to most of the visitors next week, but they will bear looking at the second time to those who enjoyed the first display.

Anyhow, if Robeson county only sends the bevies of distractingly pretty women who thronged the grand stand at Red Springs, and looked up into the faces and stirred the susceptible hearts of those distinguished orators of North Carolina—Senator Vance, Hon. G. W. Sanderlin, Maj. T. D. Love and Us—its representation will do lasting honor to that section.

Happy Hoosiers.

Wm. Timmons, postmaster of Idaville, Ind., writes: "Electric Bitters has done more for me than all other medicines combined, for that bad feeling arising from Kidney and Liver trouble." John Leslie, farmer and stockman, of same place, says: "Find Electric Bitters to be the best Kidney and Liver medicine; made me feel like a new man." J. W. Gardner, hardware merchant, same town, says: Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies. He found new strength, good appetite and felt just like he had a new lease on life. Only 50c. a bottle, at B. E. Sedberry & Son's Drug Store.

BEAUTIFUL ROOMS,

we know, can be found in abundance in this, our beautiful little city and vicinity. We know this from the number of Carpets we have furnished to our patrons. We struck a run on Carpets at the opening of the season, and it has stayed with us, and still increases. Possibly our stock is larger, and patterns more attractive, than can be found elsewhere; the public judges those matters. To-day we received an addition of 25 pieces to our stock. They will sell at sight. See them if you wish a Carpet.

AN EXPLANATION.

My circulars of this week, advertising the entire stock of Cloaks, Jackets, Capes and Wraps of every description at cost for a limited time, may appear to you unusual, especially as the season has just opened for these goods, and the stock cannot be replaced at the same figures I now offer them at. Goods of this nature have advanced from 20 per cent. to 40 per cent. in the last 30 days. My stock was secured before the advance. My motto in business is

Protection to my Customers, and you may rest assured that I propose to maintain it. I propose to hold the trade so generously bestowed on my establishment for so many years, and will not, if within my power, allow my customers to go elsewhere to purchase anything in the Dry Goods line. Notice of great reduction in Wraps is being circulated in town, and our present proposition is to give you these goods at at least 25 per cent. lower than you can obtain them elsewhere. We frankly admit that we lose money by this step, but we are determined to meet and now, as well as in the future, give our patrons goods for less money than any one else can afford to.

ALL COMPETITION,

WHEN we add up the bottom line it will be found that the Democracy has saved the country. Now let's get rid of Reedism, Ingallsism and McKinleyism, purify the atmosphere, and make the people prosperous as well as well-governed.

A MORE murderous brute never stretched hemp than THOMAS WOODFOLK, who was hanged the other day for the midnight murder, more than three years ago, of his father and eight other members of the family—some of them babes and helpless children.

"REPORTS from CANNON'S district in Illinois indicate his defeat. There is a strong feeling against him among the Republicans not only on account of his filthy talk in Congress but on account of his disposition of patronage in his district." It was a foul gun, and it will be a relief to the country if it is spiked.

"THE mills of the gods grind slow, but they grind exceeding small." BILLY MAHONE was aforetime the autocratic "boss" of the Republican party in Virginia—now "none so poor to do him reverence." He is represented as having no higher ambition than to wreak his revenge on one LANGSTON—a negro. "How are the mighty fallen!"

OCCASIONALLY "some good can come out of Nazareth." We have no use for "independents," but the independentism of the New York Herald is of the right sort. If that paper likes the name we are content to call the Herald "independent"—but, for all that, it has been preaching mighty good Democracy for the past twelve months.

WOMAN'S devotion is equal to any demand upon it. That is an affecting story that comes to us from Washington city. Miss BUTTERWORTH, daughter of the able Ohio Congressman, stands at the bedside of her fiance HOWE, a brilliant young government official, and takes the vows of wifehood, because he "could never need her love and care more than then." The next day he is a corpse and she a widow.

REV. Dr. T. H. PRITCHARD, of the Baptist church, and Rev. W. S. CREASY, of the Methodist church, of Wilmington, have been engaged in a controversy growing out of the recent visit of SAM JONES to that city. Their newspaper articles show that both belong to the Church Militant—let us hope that no bitterness over this matter will prejudice their chances of finally becoming members of the Church Triumphant. We publish Dr. PRITCHARD'S communication to-day, which we will follow with Mr. CREASY'S reply next week.

"THE women of North Carolina can't vote. They expect the men to do the voting for them. The Democrat who fails to vote will fail in his duty to them. Surely no man who values the good opinion of the women who look to him for protection would subject himself to such an accusation as that." We hope that all who did fail to walk up to the polls last Tuesday, and do their duty like white men, are now laid up in the house—snatched bald-headed, with porticoes on the sides of their craniums from a vigorous use of the broom-stick. That's the way for the women to treat them.

CANADA is under Anglo-Saxon rule, but the Gallic blood stirs the pulse and swells in the veins of its people when the pristine glory of France is invoked. The COMTE DE PARIS has been overwhelmed with the enthusiasm of the Canadian welcome; and even VICTORIA, Queen of Great Britain and Empress of the Indies, is pleased to forget the hereditary rivalry between Gaul and Albion—dating even anterior to the days of the Black Prince and Joan of Arc—and graciously signifies her gratification by cablegram that her subjects in America have accorded a warm greeting to the greatest living representative of the splendid House of Orleans.

THE recent assassination of HENNESSEY, chief of police of New Orleans, has brought to light—unless the alleged developments are of a purely sensational character—the existence of the "Mafia" in this country, an organization formed of thugs and cut-throats, for no other purpose than murder. The tortuous mind of the Southern European cannot rest without intrigue, which finds its consummation most often in conspiracy against established government. The Italian is by nature a plotter, and he generally plots with the stiletto in hand. His history has been a turbulent one all through the days of the Carobonari, and the "Count Fosco" of WILKIE COLLINS was by no means a purely imaginary character.

THE King of Holland no longer wields the sceptre over his fair but rather contracted domain. He has lately developed a crazy streak to such an extent that his subjects have deposed him as mentally incapable of ruling. His consort Queen EMMA, his second wife, who is much beloved by the Hollanders, will probably be made regent of the kingdom. The dethroned monarch, who is 73 years of age, has been a royal reprobate in his day, his rather discreditable infatuation for the celebrated singer MALIBRAN furnishing gossip for all Europe many years ago. He was unpopular with his people from the same cause that aroused the antipathy of the English against GEORGE I—neither king had any love for a residence in his capital, and were chiefly "conspicuous by their absence."

REV. SAM P. JONES.

His Manner and Method of Preaching Considered by Rev. Dr. Pritchard, Pastor of the First Baptist Church of Wilmington.

Thomasville Charity and Children.]

More than a year ago, when it was proposed by a member of the Evangelical Alliance of Wilmington to invite this celebrated evangelist to hold a meeting in this city, I distinctly declared that I could not cooperate with him. Dr. Hoge said the same, and I think that at least one other member of the Alliance agreed with us.

In my relations as a public journalist, when Mr. Jones was afterwards preaching in Charlotte, I sharply criticized his pulpit manners. This was before he had been invited to Wilmington, and I closed my article by saying that I hoped he would never come to Wilmington in my day. Let it be remembered that he was invited here by his Methodist brethren, and not by the Alliance, as was Mr. Pearson, and indeed he was called here against the protest of at least two members of the Alliance. Hence I was under no obligation to cooperate with him, or even hear him; but, at the request of the Methodist pastors of the city, I went to hear him twice. I heard him, and have read the reports of his sermons as given in the city papers, and according to promise will now give my estimate of the man and his work.

But before proceeding to discuss the man and his methods, let us get at the real issue before us. I do not object to Sam Jones as an evangelist, or a Methodist evangelist—if he were a Baptist I could not cooperate with him. I honor him for his fierce and fearless denunciation of sin, and I am in hearty sympathy with him as a temperance reformer. Forty years ago, in the Spirit of the Age, a temperance paper of that day, I announced myself, when a boy, as an uncompromising prohibitionist, and I have never, from that day to this, swerved a hair's breadth from that principle.

Understand me on another point: I do not call in question the piety of Sam Jones, or impugn his motives. Many of his doctrines I cannot endorse; for instance, he tells the people to join the church before they profess to be converted, and he seems to me to preach salvation by works with a stronger emphasis than any other man I have ever known.

That he was able to benefit some hard cases, whom the pastors had not reached, by his peculiar style, I readily acknowledge—though Mr. Pearson reached many more than he, without his slang and vulgarity; and for all the good he did in Wilmington I, for one, am profoundly grateful. I think it just, however, to consider other agencies in the meeting, besides those of Mr. Jones personally, which contributed largely to its results. In the first place, Mr. Stuart, an able and spiritually-minded minister, preached several days before Mr. Jones came; then there was brought to bear the moral power of several hundred godly men and women, who had been praying for weeks for God's blessing upon the meeting; and, added to this, we must take into account the gracious influence of the singing, under the leadership of Messrs. Excell and Bowden, which was admirable. All these factors must be taken into the account in estimating the spiritual forces of the meeting.

But to the man: Sam Jones is of spare figure and medium height, and has rather a handsome face, a good forehead and a very fine eye. His voice is singularly good, and he speaks with much deliberation. When he makes a good hit he pauses to note its effect, twirling his moustaches or scratching the back of his head. He is about 42 years old.

Beyond all question he is a man of rare ability—his published sermons, as well as the effects he produces, show that. I should call him a genius—certainly he has a genius for putting things. His grammar is sometimes at fault, and his pronunciation not always correct; but he evinces a very re-spectable acquaintance with good literature, and his powers of illustration and skill in using anecdotes are equal to those of any man I have ever known. He knows how to think, too, clearly, vigorously and with marked originality. He did not strike me as specially fluent, but he has great tact in choosing his words, and he knows how to put them into strong, pungent, striking sentences. He hits the mark he aims at every time, and there is no mistaking his meaning. He did not impress me as being intellectually broad and deep; but rather acute, vigorous and versatile. He is certainly one of the most remarkable men I have ever seen, and well worthy of the careful study of all public speakers. As a lecturer, he would be superb, and as a boon companion delightful. His personality is more magnetic and powerful than that of any man I have heard of like mental stature.

To call him a great man would be to revolutionize my conceptions of human greatness. There may have been great men with an egotism as stupendous as his, but there never was one in which this quality was so transparent. Certainly, in all the calendar of saints, history shows not one whose self-appreciation was so colossal.

The truth is, the man is badly spoiled; his great success and the unstinted adulation he has received have turned his head. He assumes the role of dictator at times. On one occasion, turning to the preachers, he said: "You fat, lazy rascals, why were you not here at the early prayer meeting, trying to save souls, instead of taking your morning nap?" On another occasion he said, "I expect to be at the judgment and to hear the excuses of some of the pastors of this city for not helping in this meeting." The intimation seemed to be that he not only expected to be at the general judgment, but to be a sort of associate justice with the Almighty in pronouncing sentence, and would enjoy the condemnation of those of us who did not see fit to join in his meeting. Such arroganee would be unbecoming in the Apostle Paul, much more in Sam Jones.

His wit and humor are of a high order and his slang seems absolutely irrepressible, and often manifests itself most irreverently. For instance, one night after he had preached, and perhaps a hundred persons had gone up and given him the hand, and the preachers and workers had gone among the enquirers and were earnestly talking with them, and after Dr. Creasy had offered a fervent and melting prayer, and when great solemnity prevailed, up jumped Sam Jones and began to talk, saying, among other things, "You need give yourselves no concern about your Uncle Jones; he can tote his own little skillet." Instead of pointing sin-sick souls to the Saviour, to obtrude his own little personality in such flippant slang seemed to me little short of sacrilege. He was somewhat less smutty here than in Charlotte; but he said enough in Wilmington to outrage propriety, common decency and good morals.

I was soundly abused and vilified in some papers and by private correspondence for styling Sam Jones a vulgarian and a blackguard. Even the distinguished son of North Carolina, Dr. John E. Edwards, shot an arrow at me from away over in Virginia—after a fuller acquaintance with him, I am sorry to say that I cannot withdraw those charges; on the contrary, I must add to them one still more serious, that of profanity, and if the utterances I submit below do not make good each of those charges I am ready to be branded a slanderer of my brethren.

"If you jump on your Uncle Jones you have got a government job on hand." "I love to see a man that stands independent and is gone. I remain here and must meet the consequences of my utterances, and I know what it will cost me. Already some of his admirers who have been my friends are quite cool in their manner towards me. I shall be sorry to lose their esteem, but if delivering my conscience on this subject causes me to forfeit their regards, so be it. God has put me here for the defence of his truth, and I must do my duty, no matter what it costs. Fiat justitia, ruat coelum.

I believe that the sentiment of the best Christian people of the State will sustain me—nay more, I believe that it won't be long before these very men who now are angry with me will see that I have been fighting the cause of truth and righteousness. I believe that most of the Methodists agree with me, and I know that one of the most distinguished of the younger preachers of that church, lately a popular pastor in Wilmington, N. C., proposes at an early day to publish strictures in the Christian Advocate on the pulpit manners of Sam Jones. Dr. Paul Whitehead, whom I know personally to be one of the ablest and most honored of Methodist ministers of Virginia, said of Sam Jones's reflections on him: "I would rather he would love the Lord Jesus Christ enough not to wound Him in the house of His friends by such imprudent and uncharitable remarks about ministers. But this is only a specimen of the improprieties perpetrated in well nigh every sermon."

But be that as it may, I know I am right and shall not fear to speak. I had rather

"Stand up alone with conscious pride,
Than err with millions on my side."

Womanly Women.

The womanly woman, like the manly man, is always deservedly loved and admired. It matters not what place she occupies in the world, such a woman ever commands its respect. She may be the humblest housewife or the obscurest nurse attending the sick or dying; yet, if it be said by those under her charge that they would fain "kiss her shadow," as the soldiers under Florence Nightengale were known to have averred, such conquest is worth more to her than a coronet. That tenderness of heart and thoughtful consideration inherent in the true woman have done more to help the world upward, as well as onward, than the casting of a female vote will ever do. What need to take a man's place, when a woman may cause man to act the good that she wills?

And does not history show us that, in civilized countries, women have existed who have influenced the rulers of the people, and thus decided the destinies of nations?

Alas! not always for good has this power been exerted, but the power has always been woman's to use for good or ill as her nature dictates.

Says a modern French writer: "It is women who mould the characters of men. If they are selfish, avaricious, self-interested; if they prefer in their lovers money to courage, beauty to intelligence, to all the qualities of the heart, men necessarily become prosaic, vulgar, low."

Big Mistakes.

Preachers who get sour and scold when things do not go to suit them, make a big mistake.

People who leave their politeness at home when they travel on railway trains, make a big mistake.

Young people who put off becoming Christians because they think they have fifty years to do it in, make a big mistake.

Men who are afraid to give their wives a word of praise, for fear it will spoil them, make a big mistake.

Parents who want their children to keep out of the church until they are old enough to understand all the doctrines and decide for themselves, make a big mistake.

Farmers who feed their pigs and cattle good corn, and pay no attention to what kind of books and papers their children are reading, make a big mistake.

Women who are overly anxious about their complexions, and underly anxious about their salvation, make a big mistake.

Young men who think they know it all, and that father and mother don't know anything, make a big mistake.

Fathers who whip their boys for doing on the sly what they themselves are doing openly, make a big mistake.

People who expect to get to Heaven, just because they have shaken hands with the preacher and had their names enrolled on the church book, make a great mistake.

The Hosiery Production.

N. Y. Correspondent Washington Star.]

I was told recently by one of the prominent hosiery merchants that the production of seamless hose in this country was 100,000 dozen pairs daily. This seems incredible, and yet my informant is a man of wide and accurate knowledge of the trade. A daily production of 1,200,000 pairs of stockings would mean 7,200,000 pairs each working week, or 374,400,000 pairs a year—an average of six pairs to each man, woman, child, bedridden invalid and pickaninny in the land. And this covers only one class of stockings, though probably the most numerous one. Of course, the bulk is of the cheapest qualities, those that sell in the trade for 50 cents a dozen and thereabouts. But how are they used, and where do they go? It is almost as deep a problem as the death and the future life of the pin. These statistics throw a strong light on the gigantic dimensions of the clothing trades. We scarcely put hosiery and underware among the important divisions of dry goods, and yet the transactions are beyond the scope of an ordinary imagination.

The Speed of a Horse.

Cincinnati Enquirer.]

While the public is still marveling over Salvator's wonderful performance in running a mile in 1:35¼, there are a few who have, through comparison and analysis, sought to realize what a terrific burst of speed this is. It is nearly forty miles an hour—a rate averaged by very few of our fastest railway trains. There are 5,280 feet in a mile, so that for every one of these ninety-five seconds—for every beat of a man's pulse—this wonderful horse covered fifty-five and five-tenths feet of ground. The shortest space of time noted by the turfman's watch is a quarter of a second—an interval so brief that the eye can hardly observe, the mind can hardly appreciate, it. Yet in every one of those 380 quarters of a second that magnificent creature leaped thirteen and nine-tenths feet. Such are the amazing results of careful breeding as exhibited in the American race-horse. Is the human race improving in the same ratio? Scarcely.

"One More Unfortunate."

Dollie (snuggling quite close to his watch-chain)—What have you in that locket?

Chollie—A postage stamp.

Dollie—Goosie! What postage stamp?

Chollie—The one on your last precious love-letter. I detached it carefully. It had touched your moist red lips. It often touches mine.

Dollie—You dreadful, awful fellow! I'm so sorry!

Chollie—Sorry! Why?

Dollie—Because I moistened that stamp by pressing it on Fido's dear, damp nose!

WHY THE COWS CAME LATE.

Crimson sunset burning
O'er the tree-fringed hills;
Golden are the meadows,
Ruby flash the rills;
Quiet in the farm house,
Home the farmer hies,
But his wife is watching,
Shading anxious eyes,
While she lingers with her pail beside the barn-yard gate,
Wondering why her Jenny and the cows come home so late.

Jenny, brown-eyed maiden,
Wandered down the lane;
That was ere the daylight
Had begun to wane.
Deeper grow the shadows,
Circling swallows cheep,
Katydids are calling,
Mists o'er meadows creep.
Still the mother shades her eyes beside the barn-yard gate,
And wonders where her Jenny and the cows can be so late.

Lowing sounds are falling—
Homeward now at last,
Speckle, Bess and Brindle
Through the gate have passed;
Jenny sweetly blushing,
Jamie, grave and shy,
Take the pails from mother,
Who stands silent by.
Not one word is spoken as that mother shuts the gate,
But now she knows why Jenny and the cows came home so late.

VARIOUS PATHS.

BY S. W. FOSS.

The path that leads to a Loaf of Bread
Winds through the Swamps of Toil,
And the path that leads to a Suit of Clothes
Goes through a flowerless soil;
And the paths that lead to a Loaf of Bread
And the Suit of Clothes are hard to tread.

And the path that leads to a House of Your Own
Climbs over the bowldered hills,
And the path that leads to a Bank Account
Is swept by the blast that kills;
But the men who start in the paths to-day
In the Lazy Hills may go astray.

In the Lazy Hills are trees of shade
By the dreamy Brooks of Sleep,
And the rollicking River of Pleasure laughs
And gambols down the deep;
But when the blasts of the winter come,
The brooks and the rivers are frozen dumb.

Then woe to those in the Lazy Hills
When the blasts of winter moan,
Who strayed from the path to a Bank Account
And the path to a House of Your Own;
These paths are hard in the summer heat,
But in winter they lead to a snug retreat.

Farm and Garden Notes.

Save all the corn and stalks this year.

Keep both stock and farm on the gain.

Fill the silo as rapidly as possible in the latest order.

Calves as well as colts should be taught to lead while young.

Perfect drainage is indispensable for health and profitable farming.

Don't forget to have salt where all the stock can have free access to it.

The overdrawn check is cruel. Better sacrifice "style" than your fine feelings.

If you have a muck-bed on your farm get some under cover for use in stable this winter.

Clover is the best for growing animals. Begin to cull out and fatten all of the unprofitable cattle and sheep.

The feet of fowls seldom receive the care and inspection so necessary to their future perfection and soundness.

We are gaining in dairy science, and from what we now know can make some estimate of the immense number of things we do not know.

We are learning something new about it every year, and it seems to be the general opinion that the silo will become a necessity to the stockman.

Scientists have said that ensilage is a good cow feed, and they agree with the verdict of the farmers and the cows. Ensilage is a good feed, but all ensilage is not alike; it is not yet known what all the conditions are that insure success in building the silo.

A Paying Investment.

H. B. Geer in Southern Cultivator.]

The spirit of improvement moves the farmer, and three or four young thoroughbred cocks, from a strain of good pure-bred layers, are introduced among his fifty common hens, while the common cocks that formerly mated with them are killed or otherwise removed. What is the result? The common hens continue to lay on in their common, slow way, but the chickens from their eggs are no longer straight mongrels: they are grades or half-breeds, and long before they are a year old—yes, even before eight months old—they begin to lay, and lay in the course of the year 125 eggs per hen. This is a net gain, over the average of common hens, of 50 eggs per hen. This, from 50 hens, would be a gain of 2,500, or a little over 208 dozen, eggs, amounting, at 1 cent each, to $25 increase in value of eggs for one season.

The cost of the cocks would probably not be more than one-fifth of the increase, which next season would be still greater, for the flock would yet nearer approximate pure bred hens, and so come nearer the latter in their egg average. The value of the increase in eggs the second year would probably be $30, and greater still if the flock should be increased.

We give the above facts and suggestions to illustrate how the farmer may increase the revenue of the farm by a little care and attention, and by means of a small investment in the interests of his poultry as well as his own interests.

Sowing Small Grain.

Southern Cultivator.]

The time to sow grass seed is also the time to sow oats, rye and barley, all of these being, botanically speaking, grasses. Do not let apprehensions of winter killing prevent the sowing of a good area of fall oats. Our observation justifies the statement that a crop of fall oats on the same land, and with the same treatment, when not seriously injured by cold, will generally yield twice as many oats as a spring-sown crop; and a fall sown crop is not oftener killed out by cold than a spring crop is ruined by drought. The fall-sown crop has so much longer time in which to forage upon the soil for a sufficient supply of material, and to elaborate the same, that a fair yield may be secured from ordinary land. On the contrary, the spring-sown crop must mature in so short a time that it is almost useless to sow on thin land unless heavily manured.

Neither Touched nor Moved.

After the queen had placed a medal on the breast of the brave Sir Thomas Troubridge, the Crimean hero, Mrs. Norton inquired eagerly of Lord Panmure:

"Was the queen touched?"

"Bless your soul, no!" was the reply; "she had a brass railing before her, and no one could touch her!"

Mrs. Norton explained:

"I mean, Was she moved?"

"Moved?" returned Lord Panmure, with wilful stolidity; "she had no occasion to move."

☞ "To be taken after each meal," read Impecunious, as the doctor left the prescription; "I shouldn't think one dose a day would help a fellow on very fast."

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C.

THURSDAY.....NOVEMBER 6, 1890.

A SWEEPING VICTORY.

No good citizen can receive unmoved the news of the splendid victory which has crowned our efforts at home, and seems to have attended the brave Democratic fight throughout the whole country—and it is difficult for the Democratic journalist to make the announcement to his readers with dignified composure.

Cumberland is now in the full flush of a magnificent triumph, counting its majorities by the hundred for the leaders put forward by one of the largest nominating conventions ever assembled within its bounds. We heartily congratulate its people on having secured for the important trusts pertaining to their public offices the gallant Sheriff Smith, whose personal popularity has been attested and his devotion to his party recognized, and Messrs. Cain, Hall Troy, McNeill and Downing, whose fidelity to their people has been met by a renewed mark of confidence.

Honored in the General Assembly of North Carolina by the able and thoroughly satisfactory representation of Messrs. Sutton and McGill, Cumberland county declares in effect that for the present it has no public servant which it desires to replace them in the council-halls of the State, and they return to Raleigh—"carrying their sheaves with them" ready to speak and work again in behalf of the "banner county" of the Cape Fear section, and to receive the hearty congratulations of their colleagues in the House.

Their canvass redounds to their honor; and, to his long recognized fitness for such exaltation, Mr. Sutton now adds party claims to the Speakership which cannot be ignored. We trust to see his ability and legislative experience rewarded by the presentation of his name in the caucus, and his induction into the chair of the presiding officer of the State House of Representatives.

Much of the election news which we give to our readers this morning is of course not official. The indications are that the political changes amount almost to a "tidal wave," and the certainty is that the lower house of Congress is Democratic by a good working majority. We have every reason to believe that extraordinary gains have been made in every section of the Union, not the least important of which is the redemption of Massachusetts and Pennsylvania. As the ground is more deliberately surveyed, and the fruits of victory are more accurately measured, not a little of our satisfaction will be experienced from the certainty that the masses of the people are moving in this matter—that for once they are leading the politicians. Best of all, the rebuke which has been so strikingly administered to Republicanism has been aimed at men who had been led to believe their power supreme in the party. Again, as we ventured to predict some days since, the McKinley bill, touching the pockets of the poor and toiling, has aroused them everywhere to their imminent danger, and has worked incalculable disaster to its promoters and advocates.

Success, it should be remembered, in an off-year does not necessarily presuppose the same good fortune in a national campaign; but we are certainly to-day far better furnished for that great contest than we were six months ago.

Obituary.

The venerable Wm. R. Hill, after a brief illness, died on the 27th ult., at the residence of his son, Rev. Dr. H. G. Hill, at Maxton, having attained the advanced age of 86 years.

His was a life of usefulness and good works, graced by such personal piety, and fortified by such moral rectitude, as made him at all times a fit exemplar for his fellow-men. In early life he acted as private secretary to two of the Governors of North Carolina, and was of the escort which conducted LaFayette into Raleigh, he and his wife (who survives him) attending the ball at the Governor's Mansion that night. Subsequently he became bookkeeper of the Bank of the State of North Carolina at Raleigh, then its cashier at Leaksville, and, finally, at Milton, until its closing up with the conclusion of the war. About twenty years ago he removed to Fayetteville, a short time after his son accepted the pastorate of the Presbyterian Church here, and filled the position of bookkeeper in the Fayetteville National Bank (now the Bank of Fayetteville) until age and bodily infirmity necessitated his retirement. For the past three or four years he has resided at Maxton.

Mr. Hill was a singularly guileless man, punctiliously careful of the feelings and sensibilities of others, and endowed with that courtly politeness so essentially a product of the "old school." He left 4 sons—Rev. Dr. H. G. Hill, one residing in Raleigh, and two in Richmond, Va.; and 4 daughters—three of whom are married.

We forbore any notice last week of the death of Mrs. A. B. Walker, of Little River Academy, hoping to receive at the hands of a friend such an obituary tribute as should do justice to her admirable qualities. Gifted with a generous heart and a magnanimous soul, her death deprives of a tender and generous friend many who had felt the blessing of her succoring kindness, while the industry and ability with which she supervised and cared for her extensive business interests made their salutary impress upon the community in which she lived. Her husband and a son survive her.

Dr. J. W. Atkins died at his residence at Lillington, Harnett county, on the 20th ult., in the 52nd year of his age. He was a man of more than ordinary intellectual force, with some literary attainments; and, after graduation at the Philadelphia Jefferson College, he practiced his profession of medicine with marked success. Dr. Atkins served two terms—from 1878 to 1886—as Clerk of the Superior Court of Harnett county.

A Very Gratifying Vote.

Hon. Henry R. Bryan, the Democratic nominee for Superior Court Judge in the 2nd district, received from the voters of Cumberland a very gratifying evidence of their appreciation of his ability and professional equipment for the bench—having led the judicial ticket by nearly 100 votes. We know that it will be pleasant to him to feel that his strength has also received increment from the respect and affectionate esteem in which his family (both at New Berne and here) are held by our people.

Time of Payment.

On and after first Monday in November the hours of paying weekly dues to the Fayetteville Real Estate Agency will be changed from 12 M. to 7 P. M. to 12 M. to 5 P. M.

Personal Pencilings.

Miss Alice Hawley, of this city, is visiting friends at Weldon.

Mr. A. R. Carver is here this week to shake hands for a day or two with friends about his old home.

Mr. J. R. McDuffie, now residing at Beard's Creek, Ga., is making a visit to his "native heath." Cumberland county lost good stock when Mr. McDuffie and family left it, and we wish that they could see their way clear to a return.

Miss Helen Hamilton, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is making a visit to Fayetteville, the guest of her friend, Miss Lettie Rosenthal, on Rowan street.

Mr. P. J. Harris, of Moore county, paid us a pleasant visit on Tuesday last. Mr. Harris is preparing to engage extensively in merchandising at Keyser.

Two Deaths—One Accidental and the Other by the Hand of a Croatan.

Special to the Raleigh Chronicle.]

MAXTON, N. C., Oct. 31.—Information just received here states that Jas. Lyteh accidentally met his death yesterday afternoon. He was near Red Bluff, S. C., when in the act of crossing a bridge over a small stream, his horse became unruly and backed off the bridge, carrying the buggy in which was seated Mr. Lytch. He received injuries from which he died within two hours after the accident. Mr. Lytch lived near Laurinburg, this State, and was quite wealthy. He was the inventor and manufacturer of the famous Lytch cotton planter. He was about 74 years of age.

Dock Oxendine, Manning Locklear and his brother Jim Locklear, all Croatans, came to Maxton a day or two ago, and imbibed too much "lightning rod." On their way home they became engaged in a drunken brawl, in which Dock shot Manning in the abdomen, inflicting a wound from which he died yesterday.

Dock also stabbed Jim, seriously injuring him. Dock has been arrested.

The dead man claimed that robbery was the cause of the assault upon him and his brother by Oxendine. He claimed to have lost $45.

Grover Cleveland.

BOSTON, Nov. 3.—The following letter has been received from Grover Cleveland by Wm. E. Russell, Democratic candidate for Governor:

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.

To Wm. E. Russell, Cambridge, Mass.:

In this last stage of your splendid canvass I cannot help expressing the hope that the people of the grand old commonwealth will testify their appreciation of your devotion to their interests by a decisive endorsement of your candidacy.

The Democracy of Massachusetts will be false to the professions and traditions of their party, and false to their duty to their country, if in this critical hour they are guilty of the least indifference or inefficiency. The triumph of Democracy is on the way, and the Massachusetts contingent must be prepared to join in the march with the flying banners of victory.

GROVER CLEVELAND.

Found Drowned.

Wilmington Star.]

The body of the young Englisman, Alfred Morgan, who escaped from the City Hospital several days since while laboring under an attack of mental aberration, was found floating in the river yesterday afternoon by a colored man named Charles Savage. Savage brought the body up the river to the wharf at the foot of Dock street, and notified Coroner Jacobs, who took charge of the remains, which were fully identified as those of the unfortunate young man. There were no marks of violence on the body, and the jury of inquest—Jno. R. Sneeden, J. J. Hayes, J. Sternberger, T. H. Nichols, Rowan Jones and Robert Leonard—found that "the deceased came to his death by accidental drowning."

By direction of Mr. James Sprunt, the British Consul, the body was placed in charge of an undertaker to be prepared for burial, and will be interred in Bellevue cemetery to day.

Presbyterian Orphans' Home.

Statesville Landmark.]

The Presbyterian Orphans' Home is to come to Iredell from Charlotte—it has been so decided by the Synod. It is to be located at Barium Springs, five miles south of Statesville. The trustees of Davidson College some time ago bought in the hotel property at the springs, and 35 acres of land connected with it, at mortgage sale, for $1,500, and have offered it to the Synod for the purposes of this orphanage at $1,000. This offer has been accepted and the hotel building will be occupied for the present as the main building of the Home. It will accommodate 100 children. The building now in use at Charlotte can accommodate but 20, and many have been necessarily turned away. The orphans will be transferred to their new home so soon as the repairs upon the hotel building at the springs can be made and the other arrangements effected.

A Railroad to the Clouds.

Raleigh News and Observer.]

Work has been begun on the Asheville and Craggy Mountain Railroad at one of the termini of the A-heville street railway. The immediate purpose is to build the road to the top of Sunset Mountain, 900 feet above the town, a distance of five miles, as soon as the work can be done. Ultimately it is intended to extend it to the top of Mount Craggy, 5,700 feet above sea level. The views that will be afforded by this road between the city and the top of Sunset Mountain are very beautiful.

For the Observer.]

The mail route from here to Society Hill, on the Cheraw & Darlington Railway has been discontinued. Mr. White will continue to send his hack to the train with its accustomed regularity for the convenience of passengers. All our mail now comes on the C. F. & Y. V. R. R. The southern mail is brought by way of Wilmington and Maxton.

The town council is making an effort to stop the jug traffic in this place. An ordinance has been passed forbidding any carrier or express company to handle or deliver any package known to contain liquor within the town limits. The express company has decided to comply with the law, and has instructed its agents to this effect. C.

Salisbury Watchman.]

The Hamilton mine, discovered a short time ago, was sold recently to the Moratock Mining Company for $600,000. This property is in the Uwharrie river district, about three-quarters of a mile from the Sanders mine and about the same distance from the river. It is close to the top of a mountain and in a erysolite formation. The ledge has been uncovered about ninety feet across, the whole being good paying ore, while a great deal of it is cut up by small quartz stringers which are very rich, probably assaying way up in the thousands. This find is a good one, and at present probably has more gold in sight than any other mine in the State.

Interesting Meeting.

Mt. Airy News.]

The meeting that has been in progress at the Methodist church for more than three weeks closed last Thursday night. It was a very successful meeting; after the first week the congregations were very large and attentive. The church has been much revived and there were about forty-five professions. Twenty-two have been added to the Methodist church, with others to join. Some will join other churches. The pastor preached every sermon save one for the first two weeks of the meeting, when Dr. Creasy, of Wilmington, came and preached six nights and several times in the day. Dr. Creasy preached some very impressive sermons. He is a good worker in a revival and has many friends here. Rev. R. M. Hoyle, Presiding Elder of the district, was in attendance as much as his other duties would permit, and preached twice, and rendered much valuable service in other ways. The meeting has resulted in great good to the Methodist church.

Suicide and Robbery.

ATLANTA, Nov. 3.—W. J. Branfield, merchant at Palmetto, committed suicide at the St. James' hotel to-day, by taking laudanum. He had written his name and address on his cuffs, so he would be identified. Financial embarrassment caused him to take his life.

At Riverdale, Saturday night, John R. McCollough, agent for an Atlanta guano house, was robbed of four thousand dollars in money and seven thousand in notes. He had them in a sachel in the room where he was sleeping. Burglars broke the lock and secured the booty. The sachel and notes were found later, but no trace of the thieves.

PENNSYLVANIA DEMOCRATIC.

Philadelphia, Nov. 5.—Patterson, Dem., elected Governor of Pennsylvania by 15,000 majority. Patterson's election conceded by Republicans by 10,000.

Pennsylvania gave Harrison 80,000 majority in 1888.

A $500 Cash Gift.

State Chronicle.]

Pastor L. L. Nash, of the Central M. E. church, wore a very happy-looking smile as he walked down the street yesterday afternoon from the express office. He went there to get a cash package of $500 which had been sent him for the building fund of his church by a friend. This handsome donation came through Rev. W. C. Norman, of Winston. It was given by a friend who offered that amount some time ago on conditions. Pastor Nash made an effort to comply with the conditions, but failed, and wrote to Mr. Norman stating the situation, and asking him to explain the condition of things to the gentleman who had made the offer. Mr. Norman's reply was the sending down of the cash—$500.

A BOON TO THE SICK.

Dr. King's Royal Germetuer is endorsed by Rev. J. B. Hawthorne, pastor First Baptist Church, Atlanta, Ga., who says: "It is a great remedy." Rev. Sam P. Jones says: "I wish every poor suffering wife had access to that medicine." Thousands of others attest its virtues. Fifty gallons are drunk in Atlanta daily, where it is performing remarkable cures. It removes the cause of disease and builds up from the first dose. Send stamp for full particulars, certificates of wonderful cures, etc., to King's Royal Germetuer Co., Atlanta, Ga. IT CURES WHEN ALL ELSE FAILS. Price, $1.50 per concentrated bottle, which makes one gallon of medicine as per directions accompanying each bottle. Can be sent by express C. O. D. if your druggist cannot supply you.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle, and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use, and, after taking ten bottles, found herself sound and well; now does her own housework and is as well as she ever was. Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at B. E. Sedberry & Son's Drug Store; large bottles 50c. and $1.00.

COTTON TO THE FRONT.

All eminent Physicians and Scientists, the world over, are now strongly advocating and urging the use of
ALL-COTTON GOODS
for underwear of every description. Of course, as they make a study of such things, they know more about them than we do. They say that All-Cotton is healthier and more comfortable, both in WINTER AND SUMMER,
than the woolen goods we were used to wear. In this connection we would state that we have secured
THE AGENCY of the All-Cotton Goods manufactured at TARBORO, N. C.
The products of this Mill are of an unusually good quality, carefully and well made, and embrace full lines of GIRLS' AND BOYS' HOSE.
They are the very best, and if you want a good quality these will fill the bill. Another prominent feature in the makes of this Mill is of every description; and, basing my judgment on Physicians' advice, I would recommend their use to my customers. They are as well-made goods as can be found anywhere, and far superior to any Northern make.
ALL-COTTON UNDERWEAR
WE ARE ACCOMMODATING, however, and if you prefer part wool or all-wool to all-cotton we can furnish you with the largest lines in the city to select from.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 South Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"I use Castoria in my practice, and find it specially adapted to affections of children." ALEX. ROBERTSON, M. D., 1057 2d Ave., New York.

"From personal knowledge and observation I can say that Castoria is an excellent medicine for children, acting as a laxative and relieving the pent up bowels and general system very much. Many mothers have told me of its excellent effect upon their children." DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

TO THE PEOPLE!

I AM NOW SELLING GOODS AT HOPE MILLS,
CHEAPER THAN THEY HAVE EVER BEEN SOLD BEFORE, and the people show they appreciate the same by their actions; they know a good thing when they see it; they know who will give good weight and who won't; they know who have regulated the prices at Hope Mills for seven consecutive years; they know the difference between the present and the sad past, when no opposition was known, and prices were so overbearing; they know that money saved is money made; they know where to go to get what they want and as they want it they know where they are most kindly treated and get the most for the money; they know that I keep constantly on hand the best stock of DRY GOODS,
Groceries, Hardware,
TIN-WARE, NOTIONS, &c., &c., &c., both at my store near the Railroad and the store known as the Cameron stand that is kept at HOPE MILLS. I also keep
